ACITY SHINE (ACITIZENS ARE BRIGHTENING THE GLOBAL CORNER)

We couldn't feel prouder. ACitizens are doing what they do best and are waving the ACity flag higher.

Mr. Nana Boadi Twumasi-Ampong, a 3rd-year studying Business Administration (Marketing) student joins Goldman Sachs. Nana, who is hugely interested and passionate about marketing would be joining Goldman Sachs as an intern with the investment bank's global marketing division. We are optimistic of Nana making the most of this unique opportunity and securing a full-time offer.

Remember when Ghana made its debut appearance at the Global Robotics Championship? There was a Benedict Amoako in the Ghana team.

Mr. Benedict Amoako, now in his 3rd-year and studying Information Technology at ACity has signed a partnership deal with MakeX Official. With this partnership, MakeX Official and Benedict's robotics startup, ROTECH, would provide adequate and hands-on training to students seeking to participate in the global robotics competition.

Benedict is fiercely passionate about robotics and is currently creating an autonomous delivery system to address the challenges faced by courier services in the country.
